"Miss Celeste" is a South Dakota native who has lived in and/or traveled to all but eight states - three are not a part of the contiguous U.S. She married her high school sweetheart and is an amazed mom of three young adults. She left university and the workforce to take care of her husband and children, after the birth of her second child. As a founding team member of LTCS, she has realized, much of her personal and professional experience prior to joining the LTCS roster was hands-on preparation for one of the most fulfilling adventures, second to being a wife and mother. She loves Jesus, books, baking, travel, and learning.
