Mrs. Lozano has been working with children for almost 20 years in many different rolls. She started off as a camp counselor, which led her to becoming a preschool teacher. She taught Pre K3 and Pre K4 until she married and moved to Coweta County. Mrs. Lozano was an Assistant Director of a Preschool for several years before she had her first child and decided to be a stay home mom. Soon after having two more kids, she started homeschooling and teaching in a home school co-op, working with many different ages. Last year, Mrs. Lozano worked in the P.E Department at Liberty Tech. This was her first introduction to working with Middle school aged students. With this new experience, the joy of working with kids expanded beyond the Elementary school age. She enjoys being a Kindergarten Teaching assistant and feels very fortunate to also be a 6th grade advisor this year. Outside of Liberty Tech, Mrs. Lozano coaches and refs youth basketball and leads her daughter's scout troop.

She currently lives in Coweta County with her husband and three children who all attend Liberty Tech Charter. She was born in Kentucky and raised in Snellville, Ga. She was raised and stands firm in her Kentucky Wildcat basketball and University of Georgia football roots. In her free time she enjoys time with her family, crafting, camping, cooking, and volunteering.
